Healey-Driscoll Administration Files Municipal Empowerment Act

The Healey-Driscoll Administration has filed the Municipal Empowerment Act, a comprehensive bill designed to arm local governments with greater tools and supports to chart their own course, making it easier for communities to generate resources for vital local services and access the products and people they need to best serve Massachusetts residents.

The Administration engaged in an extensive listening tour with municipal leaders this past Fall to unearth ideas on how the Commonwealth could better partner with our cities and towns. What emerged were concrete suggestions for improving the finances and operations of local government – from solutions to acute workforce challenges, to relief from specific administrative burdens, to new tools to make local management more efficient and effective. The Municipal Empowerment Act is a direct outgrowth of that feedback.

The bill contains local option revenue raisers, including a new Motor Vehicle Excise surcharge local option that can benefit every city and town in the Commonwealth; provides relief from numerous administrative burdens, including reforms to procurement rules that raise thresholds for competitive bids and remove onerous publishing requirements; improves the efficiency of local operations by, for example, updating borrowing rules for school projects and establishing enforcement mechanisms for double pole prohibitions; and provides new tools for addressing critical local workforce challenges, such as allowing the creation of Regional Boards of Assessors, centralizing valuation of telecom and utility property at the state level and creating additional flexibilities in post-retirement employment exemptions.

Visit www.mass.gov/municipal-empowerment-act for text of the bill, a section-by-section summary and various policy briefs that detail provisions of the bill.
